Alexandrina Council and its communities acknowledge the traditional custodians of the lands and waters on which we meet and work. The Alexandrina Council region intersects the traditional lands of the following Aboriginal Nations and clans; Ngarrindjeri, Ramindjeri, Peramangk and Kaurna. We respect and acknowledge their spiritual connection as the custodians of this land, and that their cultural heritage and beliefs are still important today.
Alexandrina Council is proud to support a vibrant arts and culture program across our region, and it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the 2020 Alexandrina Just Add Water Program.

Returning favourites this year include January’s Summer Swell Outdoor Cinema in Port Elliot, Nature Play in Kuitpo Forest in April; multiple exhibitions for the South Australian Living Artists Festival in August, and the ever popular Adelaide Symphony Orchestra perform in October.

This year we welcome an expanded regional program with the Adelaide Guitar Festival, Aquatic April and CabarMAY, which includes five cabaret style performances during May.

A big thank you to everyone involved in the creation of this year’s program; artists, staff, volunteers, community groups and you – our enthusiastic audience.

I encourage you to be involved and inspired by the performing arts, live music, visual arts and other activities in this program.

Book early, subscribe to the monthly Just Add Water newsletter and keep an eye online at www.visitalexandrina.com for any new events.

Enjoy!

Traditionally, kangaroos have been represented symbolically. Michael’s intent is to portray these animals as individuals, reflecting their unique personalities. He chooses to depict them in an intimately analytical yet expressive form.

Michael and his wife Wink live on a country property on the banks of the River Murray at Mannum, rescuing injured and orphaned animals. As a result they have a considerable number of native animals, including kangaroos living on the property. Many of these were hand raised, so they are extremely quiet and accept Michael and Wink as family. It makes them perfect subjects of observation for an artist.

Found

Sculpture Exhibition

Artists historically have naturally re-purposed all manner of media to give expression to their creativity. Whether from necessity, curiosity or a political imperative, the resulting art work can be ingenious. The first Found exhibition in Signal Point Gallery in 2016 yielded an astonishing and inspiring exhibition that became a highlight on the Just Add Water calendar for that year. Responding to demand, Found will be hosted again in 2019, giving artists the opportunity to show their ingenuity in this area.

Sherlock Gnomes

When Gnomeo and Juliet first arrive in London with their friends and family, their biggest concern is getting a new garden ready for spring. When everyone in the garden suddenly goes missing – there’s only one gnome to call – Sherlock Gnomes. The famous detective and sworn protector of the city shows up with his sidekick Watson to investigate the case. The mystery soon leads the gnomes on a rollicking adventure as they meet all-new garden ornaments and explore an undiscovered side of London.

Featuring the voices of Emily Blunt as Juliet, James McAvoy as Gnomeo, Johnny Depp as Sherlock Gnomes and Chiwetel Ejiofor as Doctor Watson.

Margi Nolan

Solo Exhibition

The South Coast Regional Arts Centre remains a stepping stone for emerging artists who are making the bold step toward presenting a professional body of work to a broad audience with the support of the Just Add Water Arts and Culture Program.

Margi Nolan will be holding her first solo exhibition as she explores her observation of the natural world using free flowing watercolour. She works to bring the essence of the beauty of form and colour through brushwork and the luminosity of the paint.

Almost Face to Face

Written and performed by Stephen House
Directed by Peter Green

Written during an Australia Council Irish literature residency, Almost Face to Face takes a risky journey into a hidden Dublin world. Moving, brutal, dark and funny, this poetic work is about indulgent creative chaos and lives on-the-very-edge. It asks, is it ever too late to face up to what you have become?

Summer Swell Outdoor Cinema – Oddball

Oddball is based on the true story of Alan ‘Swampy’ Marsh, an eccentric chicken farmer from Warrnambool in Victoria who struggled to protect a penguin colony on Middle Island. Swampy owns an Italian sheepdog, or maremma, named Oddball. With the help of his granddaughter, ‘Swampy’ trains his mischievous dog Oddball to protect a penguin sanctuary from fox attacks in an attempt to reunite his family and save their seaside town. This wonderful Australian film stars Shane Jacobson, Coco Jack Gillies, Sarah Snook and Alan Tudyk.

Annabelle Collett – Creator and Catalyst

Retrospective

South Australian artist Annabelle Collett (1955–2019) made her distinctive mark across the fashion, design and visual art scenes spanning decades in a dynamic and intensely creative career. Signal Point Gallery proudly hosts a retrospective dedicated to this significant artist in 2020 curated by Eleanor Scichitano.

The exhibition will feature work from each era including Ya Ya Design knit wear, contemporary pieces articulating the non-conformist and feminist themes that were a lifelong conversation and observation in Collett’s work, through to the playful Plastic Fantastic pieces to describe just a small portion of the work that will be on display.

I AM BRAVE

Ashleigh Darrie and James Hurford

Initiated through a partnership between Carclew and Country Arts SA, Art Squad comprises creative young people aged 18–23 years, living in regional, rural or remote South Australia who want to build their own creative career pathways while also delivering arts programs within their own communities.

They will be supported over the next two years by a creative producer from Country Arts SA to generate and deliver creative projects in their communities and support other members to do the same in their own regions.

About the exhibition: A gathering of women, sharing their stories to raise awareness through a creative lens of what they have experienced and overcome, and determined to spread the word and speak about sexual assault with strength and courage.

Lina Limosani
Limosani Projekts Australia

This award winning work is an International collaboration between Australian choreographer Lina Limosani and UK Bharatanatyam artist Seeta Patel. This accessible show blurs the lines between dance and theatre with a poetic narrative that evokes indigenous cultures and colonialism with the beauty and disquiet of a dark fairy-tale. Set in an unspecified time and place, it challenges nostalgic views of history and interrogates our ideas of equality, culture and identity. With striking imagery, it’s a one-woman show that invites audiences to re-see the past for a better future. It’s a provocative, politically pertinent and engaging piece of dance theatre for all audiences.

George Kapiniaris is one of this country’s best loved comedy, music and TV stars – having had an incredible impact on Greek-Australian popular culture over the last thirty-five years. After playing to sell out audiences across Australia with ‘Il Dago’, ‘Comicus Erectus’, ‘The Good the Bad and the Ethnic’, ‘Straight Out of Compo’ and ‘Malakas with Attitude’, George is bringing his show ‘Zorba The Freak’ to Centenary Hall, Goolwa.

Supported by some very special musical guests, this 90 minute show promises non-stop laughter and music all about growing up ‘different’ in your own country. ZORBA THE FREAK is a show about growing up Greek in this country.

As to his own heritage and where he fits now, Kapiniaris dubs himself the most ‘un-Greekest Greek’ in the nation.

“I am more ACDC than Nana Mouskouri and more meat pie than souvlaki – that comes out in the show.”

Zorba the Greek’s Anthony Quinn was a mexican but Zorba the Freak’s George Kapiniaris is a real Greek... a Greek Australian Greek!

Cheryl Bridgart is a multi-faceted artist who is best known for her unique free-hand embroidery technique which she describes as drawing with her sewing machine.

Possessing a dexterous fluidity with the sewing needle as another artist would use a pencil; she creates tactile and expressive images containing a personal and universal narrative. Cheryl studied visual art and taught herself embroidery developing a unique and personal style which continues to evolve. Setting herself a challenge, no preparatory work is done on the canvas and the art work begins when the needle and thread touches the canvas.

SOLO – Adam Page

A one-man band never sounded so amazing! Adelaide multi-instrumentalist Adam Page makes spontaneous symphonies on stage, feeding his voice and many instruments through loop pedals to build lush, layered soundscapes.

A hit at many festivals including WOMADelaide and the Edinburgh Fringe, Page weaves his intricate grooves in and out of genres ranging from jazz to tango and funk to afrobeat in this astonishing improvised performance. With no shortage of silliness and interaction, this wacky and offbeat show will delight everyone from the fringe show lover to the music connoisseur. The Bald Eagles

Australia’s best interpreters of The Eagles. The 7-piece Bald Eagles show is renowned for being a great night out with consummate musicianship; soaring harmonies and a wry humour all of their own. ‘The Baldies’ have been a sell-out success for over a decade and deliver all The Eagles’ hits as well as a taste of Steely Dan, Neil Young, The Doobies and more. You’re guaranteed a night of nostalgic transportation to a great place in a relaxed cabaret setting.

If you can’t have the real thing, this is indeed the very best second best!

Livvy & Pete – The Songs of Olivia Newton-John and Peter Allen

Helpmann Award winner Michael Griffiths and acclaimed cabaret darling Amelia Ryan celebrate the songbooks of Aussie icons Olivia Newton-John and Peter Allen. From their humble small-town beginnings to world domination in sequins and jumpsuits, revisit all of their sing-a-long classics from Rio to Tenterfield, all the way to Xanadu and beyond.

As camp as maracas and tender as Pete’s gift to Livvy, ‘I Honestly Love You’, there promises to be roller-skates, T-Birds, Pink Ladies, 80s jazzercise and an Oscar winning song to boot!

Three Bald Blokes and One Funny Night in Goolwa

Eddie Bannon, Pete Monaghan, and Jon Brooks appear together for one night only with their ‘Three Bald Blokes...’ tour. It’s 90 minutes of hilarity with three of Australia’s premium experienced comedians. Irish import Eddie recently performed his sold out show ‘Eddie Bannon Looks Different’ to rave reviews, and can be heard in the mornings on ABC Radio with Ally Clarke. Pete Monaghan, ex-Goolwa lad, has toured England and Ireland headlining comedy venues and performed with Adam Hills in the Perrier-nominated show ‘Cutloose’. Jon Brooks was born and raised in Port Pirie and won best New Artist at the Adelaide Fringe in 2011. He’s written for TV shows including Legally Brown and Rove Live. A regular on ABC radio, he’s also the host of the surprisingly popular Swear Jar Podcast.

Captain Sturt’s Exploration Exhibition

Captain Charles Napier Sturt (28 April 1795–16 June 1869) was a British explorer of Australia and part of the European exploration of Australia. He led several expeditions into the interior of the continent, starting from both Sydney and later from Adelaide. His expeditions traced several of the westward-flowing rivers, establishing that they all merged into the Murray River. He was searching to prove his own passionately held belief that there was an ‘inland sea’ at the centre of the continent.

Inspired by the Rajah Quilt Exhibition

Unnamed women convicts aboard the ship, Rajah, travelling from England to Van Diemen’s Land in 1841 made The Rajah Quilt, said to now be one of the world’s most significant textiles.

The Rajah Quilt is held in the National Gallery of Canberra’s collections. The quilt was rediscovered in 1987. At an unknown point after its arrival in Tasmania the quilt was returned to England and gifted to Elizabeth Fry who in 1816 formed the Quaker Group, The British Ladies Society for the Reformation of Female Prisoners. The quilt’s ownership in the following 147 years remains unknown. The Rajah Quilt has been an inspiration to quilters in this exhibition who come from Goolwa and surrounds.

Robyn Stacey – Ray of Light

Using the camera obscura Sydney-based artist Robyn Stacey depicts South Australia as it has never been seen before. From Latin meaning ‘dark room’ the camera obscura is an optical device of wonder, whereby the external world is trapped and inverted within the room.

"The magic of the camera obscura is that it makes us question what we take for granted – the everyday experience is presented upside down and in reverse, mimicking the way an image forms on the retina. In some photographs cars drive over the ceiling and the sky and clouds cover the floor... it’s like being in a movie where you are in the world but removed from it at the same time", says Stacey.

The regional South Australian tour of Robyn Stacey: Ray of Light is presented in partnership with Country Arts SA, the Art Gallery of South Australia and the Regional Galleries Association of South Australia.

Citizens and Sisters: Changing South Australia

On the morning of 18 December 1894, the South Australian Parliament passed a momentous piece of legislation. South Australian women became the first women in Australia, and among the first in the world, to win the right to vote and the right to stand for Parliament. Women and men fought for the vote for women, not as an end in itself, but in order to change the world around them.

Beginning with the 1894 milestone, this exhibition explores the history of the struggle for women’s rights in South Australia and asks us to consider the question: how much has changed?

EUPHORIA

by Emily Steel

Presented by State Theatre Company South Australia and Country Arts SA. South Australian Education Show commissioned by Country Arts SA

‘Meg is busy and she’d rather not be. But sometimes she can’t help it. She’s holding a town meeting and her ex-student Ethan is there. She wants to start a new festival to celebrate everything their little country town has to offer. It’s going to be called ‘Euphoria’ which means ‘happiness’. And they should be happy, shouldn’t they?’

Informed by real conversations between playwright Emily Steel and regional South Australian communities, Euphoria is a gently moving new work that will see audiences come together for a town meeting they’ll never forget.

Unsung

Starring Amelia Ryan and Libby O’Donovan

On a summer’s day in 1965, two women walked into the public bar of the Regatta Hotel in Brisbane, calmly chained themselves to the foot rail, and asked for a beer. This seemingly simple act would change the course of Australian urbanity — and a little less obviously — the course of Australian music for women.

Join cabaret powerhouses Amelia Ryan and Libby O’Donovan, as they share the story of what it took for our female singers of the 60s and 70s to be heard. Celebrate the likes of Lynne Randell, Marcie Jones, Little Patti, Judy Stone, Judy Cannon, Wendy Saddington and Alison McCallum, in an uplifting, raucous and nostalgic show that pays homage to the women who blazed the trails for future generations of Australian female pop and rock icons. Come and join us to bring these incredible women — and their music — out of the sidelines and into their rightful place in the heart of Australian music history.

Action Weekend

A weekend of epic action featuring two of the best Avengers films: Infinity War and Endgame.

Infinity War

When the Avengers beat back an alien invasion, he watched. When the ‘Guardians of the Galaxy’ saved a faraway planet from annihilation, he watched. For nearly the whole of Marvel’s Cinematic Universe, as our superheroes did their hero things, Thanos has lurked in the story’s borders, watching, waiting, biding his time. But now, his time has come. He IS the coming storm, the creeping death, the threat of apocalypse and Armageddon, oblivion and omega.

Iron Man, Thor, the Hulk and the rest of the Avengers unite to battle their most powerful enemy yet, the evil Thanos. On a mission to collect all six Infinity Stones, Thanos plans to use the artefacts to inflict his twisted will on reality. The fate of the planet and existence itself has never been more uncertain as everything the Avengers have fought for has led up to this moment.

Grounded – Martha Lott

When your life is spent up in the sky, what happens when you’re forced to plant your feet firmly on the ground?

From award-winning playwright George Brant comes the story of an ace fighter pilot whose career in the sky is ended early due to an unexpected pregnancy. Reassigned to operate military drones from a windowless trailer outside of Las Vegas, she hunts terrorists by day and returns to her family by night. As the pressure to track a high-profile target grows, the boundaries begin to blur between the desert in which she lives, and the one she patrols half a world away.

With a riveting and award-winning performance by Martha Lott, Grounded by George Brant received the Graham F. Smith Peace Foundation Award and the Adelaide Critic’s Circle Award at the 2019 Adelaide Fringe.

The symbiosis between science, poetry and art inspires the beguiling oeuvre of Angela Valamanesh. Primarily known for her biomorphic ceramic sculptures, this exhibition also celebrates the artist’s evocative drawings, watercolours, and mixed media works from her developing style of the late 1990s until present. Shown as part of the 2019 South Australian Living Artists Festival, Angela Valamanesh: About being here is the newest addition to the JamFactory Icon series, an annual solo exhibition honouring the achievements of South Australia’s most influential artists working in craft-based media.

JamFactory Icon Angela Valamanesh: About being here is a JamFactory touring exhibition.

JamFactory Angela Valamanesh: About being here has been assisted by the South Australian Government through Arts South Australia and the Australian Government through the Australia Council for the Arts, Contemporary Touring Initiative.

Angela Valamanesh acknowledges the assistance of the Australian Government through the Australia Council for the Arts. Angela Valamanesh is represented by GAG Projects, Greenaway Art Gallery, and Adelaide.

“Art like science can help teach us about who we are what we are made of and in doing so show us the importance of recognising that we are part of a whole.”

Pure Fiction

Kit Chambers Solo Exhibition

These works are a continuum of the 2013 exhibition, 'Some Windmills are real but most aren’t'. Kit’s work is concerned with the existential question of perception and reality.

“Do you see what I see?” The reality is that even though we are looking at the same thing and may not be feeling the same way about it. The possibility of a true consensus is a fiction that uses fiction to exist; it is in constant creative flux.

“My work teeters on a fictional abyss inhabited by veracious metaphors that threaten to abandon me the moment I look down.”

Lovers in springtime, ‘our love filled the air... we were two drunken souls’. Webern’s sumptuous Langsamer Satz radiates the bliss of lovers wandering the woods of Austria on a balmy spring day. Lovers of a different kind are portrayed in the rich textures of Sibelius’ Rakastava, not quite euphorically in love, but still with a deeply affected passion. Finally, Mozart pairs two violins for his elegant and intriguing Concertone for Two Violins.

The Band of the South Australian Police

In 1884 the then South Australian Police Commissioner encouraged the Adelaide Metropolitan Foot Police to form a volunteer brass band. As a result South Australia was the first police force in Australia to form a band. 136 years later, The Band of the South Australia Police is well and truly part of the South Australian fabric with their performances at concerts, parades and community festivities loved and enjoyed by thousands of South Australians. Bring the entire family to Centenary Hall for an afternoon of ‘arresting’ entertainment and fabulous music.

From the Inside Tokuremour

Exhibition

For 30 years photographer Richard Hodges has journeyed into and through an ancient remnant Tea-Tree reserve, Tokuremour, the last of its kind on the Southern Fleurieu Peninsula of South Australia.

In 2015 Richard collaborated with contemporary dance artist Tammy Arjona to explore the depths of Tokuremour Reserve, combining their art practices of movement, photography and moving image. Together they invited nine other artists to join their artistic journey through this ancient landscape and respond. The resulting production is a rich, layered sensorial experience of the light and shade of Tokuremour. First presented at Praxis Art Space in Adelaide in 2019 and in 2020 brought back to Goolwa where the inspiration began.

Sera Waters: Domestic Arts Exhibition

In Sera Waters: Domestic Arts the artist delves into her own family history to unravel the complexities of settler colonial home-making and the contemporary significance of traditional home-crafts. Large-scale sculptures and intricate embroideries are used to re-imagine the familial home, celebrating the knowledge and creativity of ‘women’s work’, while interrogating it’s complicity in forms of colonisation and privilege.

This Breath is Not Mine to Keep

Jennifer Lyons Reid and Carl Kuddell

This Breath is Not Mine to Keep is a provocative cross-disciplinary art experiment about climate crisis, delusions of immortality and the existential joy of life.

Globally we are witnessing the extinction of our world, and yet we continue to fuel our demise. Through performances, bio-art, sculptures, sound scapes, line art, poetry and tactical games, this collaborative work by Jennifer Lyons-Reid and Carl Kuddell interrogates ten stages of grief that frame our responses to loss and renewal.

The Overwintering Project – The Bigger Picture

The Bigger Picture is a South Australian perspective on the Overwintering Project, an Australia-wide series of exhibitions and regional activities that celebrate the miraculous journeys of migratory shore birds. Bittondi Printmakers’ Association Inc widens the focus by considering the changing environments that these birds encounter due to climate change, industrial development and agricultural practice, with particular reference to the South Australian coast and its specific local issues.

The exhibition will incorporate artist talks and workshops, aiming to inspire Fleurieu residents to become involved with the Overwintering Project.
